

A Culture of Peace and Nonviolence

Making it Real for Ourselves, our Families, our Communities and our World
A Residential Mindfulness Retreat in the Tradition of Thích Nhất Hạnh
October 3—7, 2001
Conception Abbey, Conception, MO

“...The year 2000 must be a new beginning, an opportunity to transform—all together—the culture of war and violence into a culture of peace and nonviolence.” These words are from the United Nations Manifesto 2000 for a Culture of Peace and Nonviolence. Zen master and peace activist Thích Nhất Hạnh helped draft the manifesto. He urges us to find concrete ways to bring peace and nonviolence into our lives. Chan Huy, a Dharma Teacher ordained by Thích Nhất Hạnh, will help us explore ways to transform our lives. This 5-day mindfulness retreat will be conducted in the tranquil setting of Conception Abbey, a Benedictine monastery 90 miles north of Kansas City, near Maryville, MO.

About Brother Chan Huy

Chan Huy, True Radiance, comes from a family with four generations of Thich Nhat Hanh's students, from his grandmother to his two children. Chan Huy teaches at Huyen Khong and Lien Hoa, two Vietnamese pagodas in Montreal, and leads mindfulness retreats throughout North America.

Chan Huy was raised in France as a Vietnamese Buddhist. In his daily life, he works as an engineer. His clear, pragmatic teaching style easily helps us to understand and touch deeply, the practice of mindfulness. His warm and engaging manner emanates with joy for the practice.

If you want to hear Thích Nhất Hạnh in person but have not been able to do so, Chan Huy can give you a taste of that experience. He is certainly among the most accomplished and articulate of Thích Nhất Hạnh's lay Dharma Teachers.
